Distribution of Stober Families in the US in 1920

Number of Stober families

Information available to us indicates that in 1972 there were less than 325 heads of households in the United States with the old and distinguished Stober name. The United States Census Bureau in 1970 estimated that there were 3.1 persons per household, which means that fewer than 1007 people in the United States bear the Stober name. In comparison, some of the most common family names shared by over two million people.

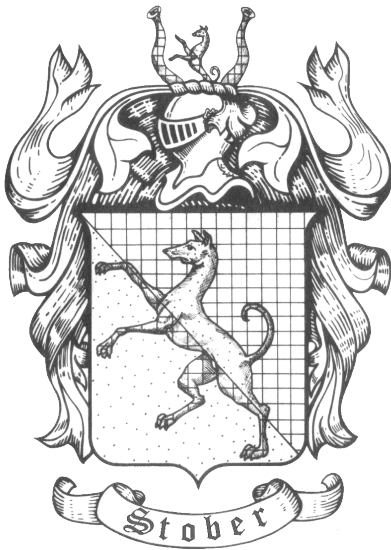

Stober Name Meaning

Middle High German: Stöuber, a type of hunting dog, possibly a metonymic occupational name for someone who bred or cared for hunting dogs.

Slavic Stobor meaning "fighter"

German (Stöber): variant of Stöver or Stoever

The Stober Coat of Arms

The Stober Coat of Arms was drawn by an heraldic artist from information officially recorded in ancient heraldic archives. Documentation for the Stober Coat of Arms design can be found in Siebmacher's Wappenbuch, Vol. 65, p. 67, under the variant Staiber.

Heraldic artists of old developed their own unique language to describe an individual Coat of Arms. In their language, the Arms (shield) is as follows:

"Von A und G. schraggetheilt, mit einem aufspringenden Windhund in verwechselten Farben."

When translated, the Arms description is:

"Divided left diagonally into black and gold, with a greyhound rampant, colors counterchanged."

Above the shield and helmet is the Crest which is described as:

"Der Hund wie im Schild zwischen zwei schwarz Buffelhornern."

A translation of the Crest description is:

"The hound, as in the shield, between two black heraldic horns."

Individual surnames originated for the purpose of more specific identification. The four primary sources for second names were: occupation, location, father's name and personal characteristics. The surname Stober appears occupational in origin, and is believed to be associated with the Germans, meaning, "one who ran a bath house."

Different spellings of the same original surname are a common occurrence. Dictionaries of surnames indicated probable spelling variations. The most prominent variations of Stober are Stoiber, Stoeber and Stobner.

The Snow Molly, 1737

On September 10, 1737, the snow "Molly" sailed from Amsterdam and Dover bringing Stober ancestors to Philadelphia. Listed as passengers were Valentine Stober (#3) and his adult sons Valentine Stober, Jr., and Jacob Stober. Only the names of the adult males were recorded. However, the senior Valentine's minor children Martin (7), Eva (5), and George (1) (#4) also accompanied him.

On September 20, 1737, the three adult Stobers took and subscribed oaths to the United States government. The family settled in Lancaster County, in Cocalico Township. Jacob

Linn continues that "William Stover was twice drafted during the Revolution, and was with the militia at Trenton in 1776, and at Brandywine and Germantown in 1777. He removed first to Centre Township, now Snyder County, and thence, in 1810, with his family and four grandchildren, to the oil - mill farm in Haines Township, now John Haines', where he Died.

He had over fourteen hundred dollars of Continental money, which proved a total loss to him." Records show that Lt. George Stober and privates Valentine and William Stober were in Captain John Jones Company of the Lancaster Militia on August 15, 1776.

William "Wilhelm" Stober Died in 1824 according to his tombstone in Wolf's Chapel Cemetery in Haines Township, Centre County, Pennsylvania. Jacob (of Haines Township, Centre County) had five sons, Jacob (b1745), Michael (b1747), Adam (b1751), John (b1754), Frederick (b21 Jun 1759, d 9 Sep 1837).
